WELCOME

Fort Carson, the "Mountain Post," is located just south of Colorado Springs at the base of the Rocky Mountains. Colorado Springs' unparalleled beauty and mild climate make it a gateway to a wide variety of outdoor activities. Many internationally-known ski areas, some of the nation's most scenic parks and finest hunting and fishing areas are located within a short drive.

Fort Carson families also have easy access to the many cultural attractions of "The Springs" and the bright lights of Denver.

Whether you have already arrived at Fort Carson or have just received orders to report here, the information in this publication will help you get settled and take advantage of the on- and off-post services and attractions for your enjoyment.

GETTING HERE

Fort Carson is located 60 miles south of Denver on Interstate 25, exit 135, or Nevada Avenue (State Highway 115), Exit 140A. (See map insert.)

The Colorado Springs Airport is currently served by 9 airlines and is located about 10 miles from Fort Carson. The USO booth, located near baggage claim area #4, is available for assistance.

Greyhound also has a bus terminal in Colorado Springs.

CLIMATE AND ALTITUDE

The Colorado Springs area has a mild year-round climate. In January, the coldest month, temperatures average a high of 43 degrees and a low of 23 degrees with a mean of 33 degrees. The area averages 42.4 inches of snow annually.

August, the warmest month, has an average high of 84 degrees and a low of 61 degrees with a mean of 73 degrees.

Fort Carson's elevation is above 6,000 feet and some newcomers experience slight fatigue at first. Because of the high elevation, all new personnel are allowed 30 days to adjust to the altitude and to reach the Fort Carson fitness standards.

COLORADO ROAD CONDITIONS

Colorado weather can be erratic. Mountain passes are frequently closed due to snow and ice or mudslides - even in the summer. During winter months, storms may suddenly occur. Unprepared travelers may become trapped.

If you are traveling in the winter, come prepared. It is advisable to have equipment, such as tire chains, blankets, flashlights, etc., for emergency situations. The State Highway Patrol road conditions report is updated constantly, year-round. The phone number is (719) 630-1111 Category #7623.

The Welcome & Farewell Center, located in Bldg. 1218, welcomes soldiers to Fort Carson.

UNIFORMS

BDUs are the duty uniform at Fort Carson. The post has an offpost uniform policy, which normally allows wearing BDUs. to lunch or traveling to or from offpost housing. Soldiers should contact their unit for more information regarding the uniform policy.

INPROCESSING

All incoming personnel should report to the United States Army Replacement Detachment and Fort Carson Welcome and Farewell Center, Bldg. 1218, located on the corner of Wetzel Avenue and Ellis Street. It is not necessary to report in uniform. The detachment operates 24 hours a day. You will receive an inprocessing appointment after signing in. Allow two to four days to in process, depending on rank.

Be sure to have your dental, medical, finance, and personnel records, orders and a DA 31 (leave form). If your finance records are in order, you will normally be paid your travel time entitlements within five days of your first day of inprocessing.

DA CIVILIANS

Department of the Army civilians should report to Bldg. 1550, Specker Avenue, at 7:30 a.m. on the first day of their employment at Fort Carson. For information on employment at Fort Carson, call (719) 526-4524 or DSN 691-4524.

Currently, there are a total of 181 rooms available for service members on post. Smoking and non-smoking rooms are available. Children under 16 stay for free. Pets are not allowed in the Colorado Inn.

The Colorado Inn has also contracted with several local, name-brand hotels to provide rooms for overflow personnel. These hotel contracts provide for lower than normal rates for military personnel and families due to the number of rooms that we generally utilize in the Colorado Springs area. If you need additional information or would like to make a reservation, on or off post, please call 719-526-4832, ext. 0. The hours of the Colorado Inn are 0630 to 0130 daily. The Commander and Staff at Evans Army Community Hospital would like to welcome you and your family to the premier hospital, civilian or Military, in the Pikes Peak area. On a recent survey conducted by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations (JCAHO), Evans Army Community Hospital received a rating that was higher than any medical facility in the Pikes Peak area. JCAHO is an independent civilian quality assessment organization that evaluates military and civilian healthcare organizations on such elements as patient safety, process improvement, environment of care, and patient satisfaction.

In January 2003, Evans was also recognized by the National Research Corporation/Picker Institute as the Army's Benchmark Hospital for the Respect for Patient Preference Dimension of Care. This recognition is a sign that our patients believe that we have respect for their values, preferences, and expressed needs. This organization surveyed 11 Health Systems, 122 Hospitals, 39,860 individual patient survey responses. Evans Army Community Hospital was one of two Army Hospitals recognized by this institute.

Please give us the opportunity to provide you and your family with the best care in the Pikes Peak Area by enrolling in TRICARE Prime here at our hospital. Family member enrollments may be accomplished by visiting our TRICARE Service Center on the first floor of Evans Army Community Hospital. Failure to enroll family members in TRICARE Prime may severely limit their access to care. TRICARE Standard patients are seen only on a space available basis. We have added an Adolescent Clinic to the Primary Care line-up. It is designed to provide primary care and consultative services to unmarried family members between the ages of 11 and 25. Younger patients can be seen if referred by their PCM for issues related to puberty.

Patients under the age of 18 need to be accompanied by a parent or an adult with legal guardianship except as permitted by State and Federal Law. In some jurisdictions, this has been interpreted to mean that if a step-parent has not been given a power of attorney, or legally adopted the child, they can not provide the requisite consent. The State of Colorado allows a minor to provide informed consent for treatment of Sexually Transmitted Diseases, prenatal care, substance abuse, and contraception. A minor over the age of 15 may provide informed consent for treatment of mental illness.

Primary care is provided to active duty family members, retirees and their family members through Family Practice, Pediatrics and Internal Medicine. Illnesses that cannot be treated by a primary care provider will be referred to a specialty clinic. Primary Care Clinics are also the first place to start when you are requesting referral to a specialty clinic.

All patients need to keep an accurate list of medicine that they are taking with them. Medicine's focus is now on preventive medicine and all patients, whether sick or not should see their provider for preventive medicine services to include weight and blood pressure monitoring, lifestyle counseling, evaluation for periodic checks of cholesterol and diabetes, prostate, breast, cervical and colon cancer checks and stress and mental issues.”

The History of Ft. Carson

FORT CARSON HISTORY

Fort Carson was established in 1942, following Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor. The city of Colorado Springs purchased land south of the city and donated it to the War Department. Construction began immediately and the first building, the camp headquarters, was completed January 31, 1942.

Camp Carson was named in honor of the legendary Army scout, Gen. Christopher "Kit" Carson, who explored much of the West in the 1800's.

At the construction's peak, nearly 11,500 workers were employed on various construction projects at the new camp. Facilities were provided for 35,173 enlisted men, 1,818 officers and 592 nurses. Nearly all of the buildings were of the mobilization type construction with wood sided exteriors. The hospital was of the semi-permanent type concrete block and had space for 1,726 beds with an expansion capability of 2,000 beds.

The 89th Infantry Division was the first major unit to be activated at Camp Carson. During World War II, over 100,000 soldiers trained at Camp Carson. Along with three other infantry divisions - the 71st, 104th and 10th Mountain - more than 125 units were activated at Camp Carson and more than 100 others were transferred to the Mountain post from other installations.

Nurses, cooks, mule packers, tank battalions, a Greek infantry battalion, and an Italian ordnance company - literally soldiers of every variety - trained at Camp Carson during the war years.

Camp Carson was also home to nearly 9,000 Axis prisoners of war - mostly Italians and Germans. The internment camp at Camp Carson opened on the first day of 1943. These POWs alleviated the manpower shortage in Colorado by doing general farm work, canning tomatoes, cutting corn, and aiding in logging operations on Colorado's Western Slope.

General
Christopher "Kit" Carson

Between 1942 and 1956, pack mules were a common sight at Camp Carson. The first shipment arrived by train from Nebraska in July 1942. The mules were used by Field artillery (Pack) battalions to carry equipment, weapons and supplies over mountainous terrain.

The most famous of these animals was Hambone, the pride of the 4th Field Artillery For 13 years, he carried First Sergeants up Ute Pass to Camp Hale. Camp Hale, located near Leadville, Colorado was where the Army conducted cold weather and mountain warfare training. Hambone died in March 1971, and was buried with full military honors.

Activity at Camp Carson was greatly reduced following the end of World War II. By April 1946, the military strength at the Mountain Post had dropped to around 600. It appeared that Camp Carson would be closed.

With the onset of the Korean War however, activity once again increased. Many Reserve and National Guard units were called to active duty and stationed at Camp Carson during this time.

Camp Carson became "Fort Carson" in 1954. In the 1960s, mechanized units were assigned to the Mountain Post. At this time additional training land was purchased, bringing the post to its current size of 140,000 acres. Throughout its history Fort Carson has been home to nine divisions.

An additional training area, comprising 237,000 acres, was purchased in September 1983. Named the Pinon Canyon Maneuver Site, this training area is located approximately 100 miles to the southeast, and is used for large force-on-force maneuver training. Comprehensive maneuver and live fire training also occurs down range at Fort Carson.

Exercises and deployments continually hone the skills of the Fort Carson Soldiers. When not deployed, soldiers train annually at Pinon Canyon Maneuver Site and the National Training Center in California. Additionally, units participate in joint exercises around the world, including Central and South Africa, Europe, and Southwest Asia. In 2003, most Fort Carson units were deployed in support of Operations Enduring Freedom and Iraqi Freedom. Troops were also sent in support of the guard mission at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. President George W. Bush addressed the troops and family members on November 24, 2003, in praise of the soldiers' determination and the sacrifices their families have made.

Throughout its history, Fort Carson soldiers and units have been very active supporting various community events throughout Colorado. Soldiers from the mountain post have conducted firefighting missions in local national forests, search and rescue missions throughout the state, and various other emergency operations. Twenty-four cities in Colorado have formal relationships with units at Fort Carson and the Mountain Post supports over 350 community events such as parades, concerts, and fairs every year.

Fort Carson has a proud history of supporting the nation's call to arms. For more than five decades, Fort Carson has provided trained and ready soldiers to meet operational requirements. That heritage continues today at Fort Carson, the Mountain Post.

Ft. Carson Units

UNITS

Fort Carson has a very diverse military and civilian population. Over 14,000 soldiers and about 3,000 civilians are assigned to the Mountain Post.

The major units assigned to the post include the first Reserve Component/Active Component Division, a mechanized infantry brigade, a Special Forces group, an armored cavalry regiment and an area support group. Many other smaller units also call Fort Carson home. More detailed information about these units can be found on the Fort Carson Web site, <http://www.carson.army.mil>.

In 2003, soldiers from Fort Carson were deployed around the world in support of the War on Terrorism, which includes Operation Enduring Freedom in Afghanistan, Operation Iraqi Freedom in Iraq and guarding suspected terrorists at the U.S. facility at Guantanamo, Cuba. In keeping with the honorable tradition of service to our nation, our soldiers, families and civilians continue to devote their time, their talent and more to safeguard our way of life and secure our nation's future. To honor those who have gone before us, and especially to those who have given the ultimate sacrifice, the entire Mountain Post Team is resolved to continue its mission: to train, equip and deploy soldiers anytime, anywhere, whenever our nation asks.

THE 7TH INFANTRY DIVISION

The BAYONET was forged in the fields of France, tempered on the frozen tundra and mountains of the Aleutians, the coral atolls and islands of the South Pacific, and then honed razor sharp in the mountains and rice paddies of Korea. The Bayonet-or the 7th Infantry Division, as it is officially known-continued to stand guard in Korea, manning our outpost line in strife-ridden Korea until 1971 when the Division was returned to U.S. soil for the first time since 1943. The Division was assigned to Fort Lewis, WA and deactivated for a brief period of time. In October 1985 the Division was resurrected as the 7th Infantry Division (Light) at its old post, Fort Ord, CA. The Lightfighters of the Bayonet Division were called to Honduras in 1988 for "Operation Golden Pheasant" and to Panama in 1989-90 for "Operation Just Cause." In August 1993 part of the Division was reassigned to Fort Lewis, WA and subsequently deactivated in June 1994 at Fort Ord, California. The 7th Infantry Division was reactivated 4 June 1999 at Fort Carson, Colorado.

THE 3RD BRIGADE COMBAT TEAM 4ID (M)

The 3rd Brigade was constituted 19 November 1917 in the Regular Army as Headquarters, 8th Infantry Brigade, an element of the 4th Infantry Division. It was organized in December 1917 at Camp Greene, NC. The Brigade has been reorganized and redesignated several times over the years. Finally on 15 December 1970, it was activated at Fort Carson, CO as 3rd Brigade, 4th Infantry Division. When the Division Headquarters moved to Fort Hood, TX, the Brigade was redesignated as 3rd Brigade Combat Team (BCT).

3rd BCT has received numerous campaign participation credits, including Aisne-Marne and Meuse-Argonne During World War I. During Vietnam, 3rd BDE participated in Counteroffensive, Phases II-VI, and Tet counteroffensive, to name a few. 3rd BDE has received many decorations. A few of the more prestigious decorations include the Presidential Unit Citation, Valorous Unit Award, Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with Palm, and the Republic of Vietnam Civil Action Honor Medal, First Class.

The 3rd BCT, 4th Infantry Division (Mechanized), or the "Iron Brigade," is composed of two M2A2 Bradley Fighting Vehicle equipped infantry battalions (1-8 IN and 1-12 IN), one M1A1 Abrams equipped armor battalion (1-68 AR), one M109A6 155mm Paladin equipped field artillery battalion (3-29 FA), one mechanized combat engineer battalion (4 EN), and one forward support battalion (64 FSB). In addition, the Brigade Combat Team has one Bradley Stinger Fighting Vehicle/Stinger air defense battery (C/1-44 ADA), one military intelligence company (C/104 MI), one signal company (534 SIG) to support its combat operations. The three separate companies' parent battalions are located at Fort Hood, TX.

The Brigade has been actively deploying soldiers on a variety of missions around the world. We work extensively with the 116th CAV Brigade, the National Guard unit stationed in Boise, ID. We routinely send soldiers to assist in their training and serve as observer/controllers during their annual training. We trained soldiers on techniques of fire fighting and deployed them to Washington during the summer of 1997 to assist in the rampant outbreak of forest fires. We had a highly successful NTC rotation during July 1997, and then proceeded to gear up for some exciting training at Pinon Canyon, followed by another tour to the National Training Center in the fall of 1998. 3rd BCT played a large role in the 4th Infantry Division's Advanced Warfighting Experiment (AWE), where we were exposed to the Army's most advanced computerized systems that allowed us to fight a digitized three dimensional battle.

We deployed to Iraq in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and have been on the forefront in stabilizing and rebuilding Iraq.

HHC UNITED STATES ARMY GARRISON

United States Army Garrison is comprised of over 500 soldiers and nearly 3,000 civilians who make up the installation activities of Fort Carson, Colorado. Its roots can be traced back to May 15, 1942, when LTC Cornelius F. O'Keefe assumed command of Headquarters, Camp Carson, Colorado. These proud men and women whose duties cover most Combat Support and Combat Service Support military occupational specialties in the United States Army provide daily installation support to all units and activities assigned to Fort Carson.

Due to the location of the U.S. Army Training Center at Fort Carson in the early 60's, HQ Special Troops, U.S.A.G. was organized on August 28, 1961. The U.S. Army Training Center transferred to Fort Polk, Louisiana in May 1962.

Today United States Army Garrison, Fort Carson, has provided a home and a base of support for nine different battle-hardened divisions. A proud heritage of honor and victory has been handed down.

THE 43RD AREA SUPPORT GROUP

The 43rd Area Support Group (43rd ASG) has been assigned to the Mountain post since March 23, 1966. It consists of a headquarters element, a military police battalion, a support battalion, a combat support hospital, an engineer battalion and several other units.

There are over 2,900 soldiers assigned to the 43rd ASG, and its mission is to provide combat support and combat service support to an army corps. The 43rd ASG is currently assigned to FORSCOM.

Major subordinate elements of the 43rd ASG include the 759th Military Police Battalion; the 68th Support Battalion; the 10th Combat Support Hospital; and the 52nd Engineer Battalion.

Elements of the 43rd ASG deployed to support military operations during Operations Desert Shield and Desert Storm in 1990-91, the operations to stabilize Somalia and Haiti, and operations in Honduras. Most recently, the 43rd ASG has deployed units to support the mission at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, and supported troops in Iraq during Operation Iraqi Freedom.

DOWN-RANGE AT FORT CARSON

Fort Carson is bounded on the east by Interstate 25 and on the west by Colorado Highway 115. The fort extends from the main post, which is just south of Academy Blvd., to its southern perimeter, which lies just north of the communities of Pueblo West and Penrose.

All told, Fort Carson consists of 138,523 acres including the cantonment area (main post), and training areas down range. The training areas include a wide variety of different vegetation types. There are open prairies and heavily forested areas. There are lowlands, wetlands, and creek drainages as well as mountainous and hilly areas.

Fort Carson can accommodate a wide variety of training, including extensive maneuver training (both mounted and dismounted), airborne training, and weapons training, including small arms qualification and tank, artillery and helicopter gunnery.

There are two impact areas at Fort Carson - a small impact area, (in the north), for small arms; and a large impact area (in the south), which supports artillery tank, Bradley, and other gunnery ranges.

The large impact area can support mortar firing, cannon artillery and even Multiple Launched Rocket System (MLRS) firing.

Tank and Bradley gunnery is typically conducted at the Range 109 complex for the preliminary tables and the Multi-Purpose Range Complex (MPRC) for qualification gunnery and advanced firing tables.

Personal and crew served weapons firing (.50 cal and smaller), is usually conducted on a wide variety of ranges encircling the small impact area which is near the main post.

There are 43 different training areas located at Fort Carson, which can support a variety of training. Consult Fort Carson Regulation 385-63 for a complete listing of ranges, training areas, and other facilities. Range Control, Bldg. 9550, located at the intersection of Butts Field Road and Route 2, can provide complete information regarding training area and range use. The telephone number for Range control is 526-5597.

Environmental stewardship of Fort Carson's natural resources is extremely important. The directorate of Environmental compliance and Management (DECAM) oversees the management of Fort Carson's training areas and conducts unit instruction on maneuver damage prevention.

DECAM also has a hazardous waste reaction team that is employed if an environmental emergency arises. For more information regarding environmental protection of Fort Carson resources, contact DECAM at 526-2022/4907.

PINON CANYON MANEUVER SITE (PCMS)

In 1983, Fort Carson acquired 237,000 acres of training land on the north side of the Purgatoire River in southeast Colorado.

Called the Pinon Canyon Maneuver Site, this training area is a Training site of Fort Carson, located approximately 150 miles to the southeast.

PCMS can accommodate a full range of maneuver training, including brigade-level, force-on-force maneuvers. No live-fire training is conducted at Pinon Canyon.

Map provided by Fort Carson DECAM

Pinon Canyon also provides excellent dismounted maneuver terrain in the rugged canyons and arroyos that empty into the nearby Purgatoire River.

Units have been training at PCMS since 1985, and major training rotations typically have taken place there as units prepare for the National Training Center at Fort Irwin, California.

As is the case at Fort Carson, environmental stewardship of the natural resources at PCMS is tremendously important. All soldiers and units must undergo environmental training prior to using PCMS.

The environmental management of PCMS is unique within the Department of Defense, in many respects. Management of the site provides for the continuing balance between military training requirements and resource protection. PCMS has more than 100 archeological or cultural sites, which must be protected by federal statute.

PCMS' resource protection program is divided into six primary areas: the study and protection of wildlife; plant and soil conservation; water quality; the impact of training on cultural and archeological resources; and the effect of sound in the environment.

PCMS provides Fort Carson soldiers and units a unique training resource. The arid, high desert climate allows for year-round training and the wide-open spaces allow battalions and brigades to fully deploy using doctrinal distances.

Units typically transport heavy equipment (tanks and other armored vehicles) by rail to PCMS and conduct convoys with wheeled vehicles. PCMS can also support a full range of aviation training requirements.

Facilities at the training site include a railhead, showers, range control facility helipad, dirt runway, small shoppette, and a vehicle maintenance facility.

COLORADO HISTORY

What is now called Colorado was originally part of New Spain. The Spanish heritage lingers on in the names of cities and places, particularly in Southern Colorado. The Sangre de Cristo Mountains, (Blood of Christ Mountains), and Trinidad, named for the Trinity, are examples. Colorado is the Spanish word for the color red. The name is taken from the red-colored river, the Colorado. The Spanish heard from the Indians that there was gold in the mountains, but did not search for it. As the Spanish claim became weaker, the area was ceded to France. The French heritage can be traced through names remaining on Colorado maps, such as Lafayette, LaSalle and Louviers, mainly in the northern part of the state.

After the United States purchased the Louisiana Territory from the French, in 1803, Lieutenant Zebulon Pike was sent to explore the new piece of real estate for his country. While in the area, Pike tried and failed to climb the mountain named after him. He reported that no one would ever climb that mountain and that there was a good possibility of gold in the area.

In 1858, settlers from the east were drawn to the area, in search of gold. In 1859, the El Paso Claims Club was formed to establish law and order in the territory. The club also laid out Colorado City and started selling building sites. Colorado City residents made their living off the miners and small settlements in the mountains, selling provisions and entertainment.

COLORADO SPRINGS

Colorado Springs is the second largest city in Colorado and one of the fastest growing cities in the nation. Founded in 1871 by General William Jackson Palmer, the city was planned to attract people of means and social standing, "good moral character and strict temperance habits." Since the wide-open town of Colorado City was right next door, with its saloons and "working ladies," the general did not have quite the impact on the Pikes Peak area that he would have liked.

The region prospered when gold was discovered in nearby Cripple Creek in 1891. The Springs became a depository and a favorite residence of those with new-found wealth.

Following the decline of the Cripple Creek gold fortunes around 1909, the Colorado Springs economy declined. Civic-minded leaders were determined that tourism would be the city's new gold mine. Led by Spencer Penrose, who built the beautiful Broadmoor Hotel, the city rapidly capitalized on its beauty. Colorado Springs quickly became a resort town.

As tourism declined due to the depression and the beginning of World War II city leaders again looked for a means to save their beautiful city. This time it was decided that a military camp was the answer. Congress approved the establishment of a camp in 1942, and almost overnight, Colorado Springs had more soldiers than residents.

Denver's Invesco Field is home to the Denver Broncos.

That was the end of the city as a sleepy little tourist town and the beginning of the city that has been referred as the "Military Hub of the Nation." Since Camp Carson was built in 1942, Colorado Springs has become the home of Peterson Air Force Base, the United States Air Force Academy the North American Aerospace Defense Command (NORAD), Falcon Air Force Base, and the Consolidated Space Operations Center (CSOC). In return these commands have attracted the country's high tech industries to the Springs. Colorado Springs' current population is approximately 464,000.

DENVER

Denver, Colorado's state capital, is about an hour's drive north of Colorado Springs on Interstate 25. Founded in 1858 by General William E. Larimer, the city's fortunes rose and fell with the gold strikes in the nearby Rocky Mountains.

Denver's rise to eminence on the Front Range was a hard fought battle. Cities such as Colorado Springs and Central City bitterly contested the choice of Denver as the capital.

The history of Denver is rich in fact and folklore, shaped by a beautiful cast of characters whose names are legends in the west. Madams, like Jennie Rogers, owned the most beautiful residences and miners who struck it rich formed high society. Denver was nourished to maturity by a rapidly growing Rocky Mountain empire. Today, the city consists of a five-county metropolitan area with a population of more than 2 million people.

Approximately 500,000 people live within the city limits of Denver. Following a wild beginning when the city's livelihood was based on a strike-it-rich or bust economy, Denver is now the market center of the Rocky Mountain region.

Denver has become a center for music, art, education, sports, outdoor recreation and entertainment in Colorado.

Performing arts, exhibitions and conventions are held in the Denver Coliseum, the National Western Complex, the Denver Center for the Performing Arts.

Denver supports professional basketball, football, baseball, hockey and soccer teams. The Sports Complex off Interstate 25 includes Invesco Field at Mile High Stadium and the Pepsi Center, which hosts other events such as ice shows and concerts throughout the year.

The Denver Art Museum, Denver Botanic Gardens, Children's Museum, Denver City Park and Zoo, Museum of Natural History, Gates Planetarium, The Denver Mint, Governor's Mansion, Pioneer Museum, the National Western Stock Show and the Red Rocks Amphitheater all offer a variety of entertainment for the entire family.

MANITOU SPRINGS

Before the coming of miners, gamblers, speculators and the like, the area of beautiful rocks, canyons and natural springs, located at the base of Pikes Peak, was sacred to many Indian Tribes. The Indians believed that the water had supernatural powers and attributed these powers to the "Manitou." Roughly translated it means "Great Spirit of Natural Phenomena."

The white man believed that the springs had a great power too and proceeded to develop the area into a successful health spa. Manitou Springs, in the late 19th century was a leading national spa with the tourist trade as the main source of income. Recently named a Historical District, the city's Victorian architecture and rustic charm continues to attract visitors from around the country.

Manitou Springs is where the famous Cog Railway resides with regular trips up to Pikes Peak.

CRIPPLE CREEK/VICTOR

People always knew that there was gold in the mountains. That's why so many spent so much time looking for it. But it wasn't until 1890, when a prospector named Bob Womack made the first big strike in Poverty Gulch that the real gold rush was on. Overnight, 12 towns sprang into existence. Cripple Creek grew from nothing to a population well over 60,000. Everyone wanted gold and was determined to strike it rich.

It's hard to imagine that mad and crazy scramble now. All but two of the towns are gone. As for the mines, the Molly Kathleen and the El Paso, the only two working mines, are still looking for the mother lode.

The rest of the mines have disappeared like the towns. Some of the mines are still open for tours.

Cripple Creek residents have decided that there's gold in "them there tourists and gamblers." Much of the town has been restored and turned into low-stakes gambling casinos. Both visitors and residents have a lot of fun reflecting on the gold rush days.

Victor, the other surviving settlement, is a sleepy dusty little town near Cripple Creek. On a quiet afternoon, with a little imagination, it is easy to see the ghosts of dance hall girls and miners, drifters and storekeepers, all after elusive wealth.

The Cripple Creek-Victor area is still an active mining district. Investors from all over the world have become interested in the renewed exploration and mining activity. Any day now someone could strike it rich and the rush will be on again. After all, there's still gold in those mountains.

Cripple Creek, historic gold mining town and gambling village, is at an elevation of over 9,000 feet.

FOUNTAIN

Founded in 1859 and incorporated in 1903, Fountain is the oldest community in the Pikes Peak area. A supply center and refuge for the early settlers, little remains of the original town.

The city, located east of Fort Carson, is a popular choice of residence for people who work at the Mountain Post.

Widefield and Security are two unincorporated communities between Fountain and Colorado Springs. The small town atmosphere and close-in location make these popular areas to live in.

PUEBLO

The city of Pueblo, located 40 miles to the south of Colorado Springs, takes its name from a fortification built there by fur traders in 1840. The Fort was called "El Pueblo."

Today Pueblo is a highly diversified metropolitan area with a population in excess of 125,000. Pueblo offers a variety of cultural events such as performances by the Pueblo Civic Symphony, City Park band concerts, Broadway Theatre League and the University of Southern Colorado concerts.

For more than 100 years, Pueblo has been the home of the Colorado State Fair. The event attracts close to one million visitors each year. An array of the nation's top entertainers is on hand at each fair. Parimutuel horse racing, rodeo performances, and All-American horse show and numerous exhibits delight both the young and old.

The FTS network allows calls to all locations in the U.S. (CONUS) and includes areas such as Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and U.S. Virgin Islands. Overseas calls, including Canada and Mexico, still have to go through the base operator and require a control number. Calls to Global (Overseas) Areas General purpose DISN users cannot direct-dial numbers to the Global Area, except Alaska, through the Fort Carson MSL 100 telephone system. To place Global DISN calls, users must place their calls through the Fort Carson operator using a control number. To get a control number, contact your unit, organization, activity or section's Telephone Control Officer.

Nuisance Calls

Malicious, threatening, abusive, indecent, annoyance, or harassing telephone calls, including those in which obscene or profane language is used are prohibited by state and federal laws. Any person making such calls or any person knowingly permitting any telephone under his control to be used for such a purpose may be subject to criminal or civil prosecution by the person called or may have their service disconnected. Those receiving calls of this type should hang up immediately. If the calls persist, contact the Military Police. This applies to government and commercial subscribers.

Defense Information Systems Network (DISN)

The Defense Information Systems Network is the long haul voice communications network within the Defense Communications System. It provides unsecured, direct distance dialing service worldwide. DISN is primarily used for essential command and control, intelligence, logistics and diplomatic traffic. The Joint Uniform Telephone Communications Precedence System is directed for use by all authorized users of voice communications facilities of the Department of Defense. To use DISN effectively, users must be familiar with the purpose of each precedence category and the types of calls.

Minimize

MINIMIZE is a condition that a commander or other authority may impose on users of telecommunications systems in an emergency or exercise. The aim is to limit the volume of routine traffic in the communications systems and ensure the flow of traffic. Essential traffic is that which deals directly with the success of the mission or safety of life. The telephone precedence system has no bearing in determining whether a telephone call should or should not be placed. Responsibility for determining if a call is to be placed rest with the calling party and is based on the perishability of the subject matter to be discussed. Calling parties must state that the call is minimize considered along with the precedence or other calling information when requested.

Phonetic Alphabet

For clarity in telephone conversations it may be necessary to identify single spoken letters through the use of the phonetic alphabet as follows:

A - Alpha	.....	N - November
B - Bravo	.....	O - Oscar
C - Charlie	.....	P - Papa
D - Delta	.....	Q - Quebec
E - Echo	.....	R - Romeo
F - Foxtrot	.....	S - Sierra
G - Golf	.....	T - Tango
H - Hotel	.....	U - Uniform
I - India	.....	V - Victor
J - Juliet	.....	W - Whiskey
K - Kilo	.....	X - Xray
L - Lima	.....	Y - Yankee
M - Mike	.....	Z - Zulu

Telephone Communications Precedence System

The Joint Chiefs of Staff has developed and approved a telephone communications precedence system to ensure calls through the Defense Information Systems Network (DISN) system receive a level of service relative to their significance. The precedence levels are FLASH, IMMEDIATE, PRIORITY AND ROUTINE. DISN users are required by USA directives to use the lowest precedence consistent with the operational mission or necessity of the call. Assignment or use of a precedence designation based solely on rank or duty position is strictly prohibited.

Priority:

Reserved for calls that require prompt completion for national defense and security, the successful conduct of war or to safeguard life or property, which do not require higher precedence. Normally, priority will be the highest precedence that may be assigned to administrative matters for which speed of handling is of paramount importance.

Flash:

Reserved for alerts, warning, or other emergency actions having immediate bearing on national, command or area security. May be preempted by the application of the FLASH OVERRIDE capability available to National Command Authorities.

Immediate:

Reserved for vital communications which: (1) have an immediate operational effect on tactical operations, (2) directly concern safety or rescue operations, or (3) affect the intelligence community operational role.

Pre-emption

Whenever a DSN call is "interrupted" by a sleddy tone (higher pitch than the dial tone), your call has been automatically pre-empted by a higher precedence calls.
